

THE ENDURING BENCHMARK

SR 52

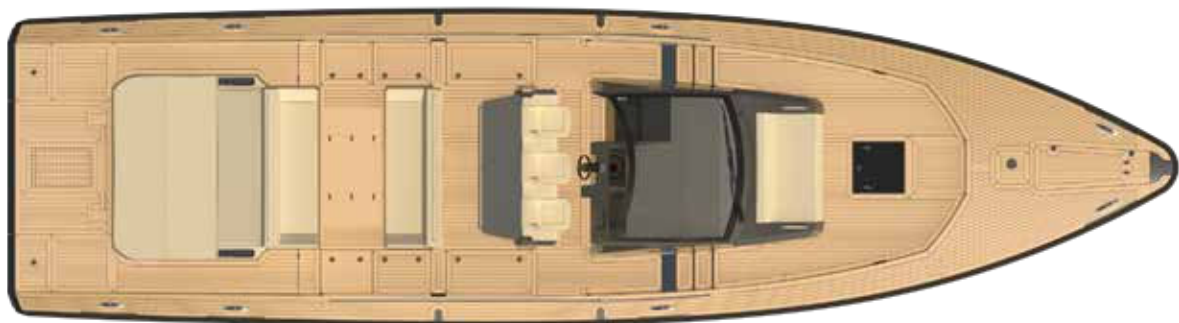

Unveiled at the Cannes Yachting Festival, the SR52 Blackbird immediately set a new benchmark for luxury yacht tenders; and more than a decade later, it continues to define the category. Recognised as the world's best chase boat by Superyacht Magazine, it remains a reference point for those who demand both presence and performance.

Developed by naval architect, Hans Jørgen Johnsen, with exterior design and styling by Dubois Naval Architects, and interiors by the Windy Design Department, the SR52 brings together leading expertise in every detail. Its streamlined silhouette makes a commanding first impression, yet it is the first push of the throttles that truly captivates. Powered by Triple IPS 650 or Twin IPS 800 Volvo Penta diesel engines, supported by advanced interceptors, the SR52 delivers exhilarating speed with remarkable balance and control.

PERFORMANCE, COMFORT & UNDERSTATED CONFIDENCE

The SR52 combines exhilarating performance with refined comfort, delivering a fast, stable and quiet ride, while the conversation flows as easily as the journey itself. More than a superyacht tender, it serves equally well as an elegant day boat or uncompromising fast weekender, bringing guests ashore with effortless style and discretion.

On deck, a spacious cockpit with dedicated helm seating and protected sport seats places you at the centre of the experience, while the teak walkaround layout connects the entire boat, creating a natural flow between driving, socialising, and relaxation.

Confident, versatile, and quietly distinctive, the SR52 doesn't demand attention - she earns it.

An aerial photograph of a tropical lagoon. In the foreground, a large white sailboat with its sails up is moving towards the right, leaving a white wake. Behind it, a smaller brown motorboat is also moving towards the right, leaving a white wake. The water is a vibrant blue, transitioning from a lighter turquoise near the shore to a deeper blue further out. In the background, there is a long, narrow island covered in lush green vegetation. The sky is blue with some white clouds.
